JESSE:

HA!

Imani warmly smiles at Josiah.

JOSIAH:

Yeah he's pretty cool I guess.

IMANI:

We'll let you two get back to your fun. It's good to see you out J. Stay up.

Josiah smirks and nods.

JOSIAH:

I'll see you around Imani.

They hug once more and part ways. As they pass Josiah's and Imani's friends acknowledge each other.

Football plays on the TV. Josiah sits in his chair with a plate of food.

Jesse is on the couch working on a mound of food. And beside him sits a scrawny, bug eyed woman with bad skin. Jesse smirks at his MOTHER, early 30s.

She smiles back as she fidgets. A plate of food sits in her lap untouched.

Josiah watches her keenly. A whistle from the game grabs his attention.

JESSE:

No!

Jesse sits up in awe, gazing at the game. A PLAYER is down on the field. TEAMMATES surround him.
